FROM WESSINGTON. Special Correspondence of the Alexa. Gazette

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27, 1879. Julge Willoughby, of Alexandria, by special invitation, had en interview with Attorney General Devens this morning to refere co to the Rives case, in which the Judge is the pricsipal counsel for the United States. The case will be the first one ried at next term of the United States Supreme Court, which will meet on the 21 Monday in October next, and in it on the 21 Monday in October next, and in it the whole to conclude with a DISTRIBUTION the Judge will be assisted by the Atterney OF PRESENTS, consisting of useful and fancy General. The consultation was not a long one, but will be received next Welnesday. The Arlington care, if it comes up at all at the next term of the United States Supreme Court, will not do s) until late in the session, or until the bil prepared by Mr. S. F. Beach and joirsdused into the Secate last session by Mr. John-ston, and which is intended to authorize the cour: to try the case, shall have been disposed of. It will be recollected that the court its winter in a Califorcia case decided that suits could not be brought for property in possession of United States officers, and the bill referred to is to take the Arliestin case out of that

The trial of Jim Stone, the negro who murdered his wife by outling her throat, now in progress in the Criminal Court of this city, continues to attract large growds to the Court House. The evidence has been completed. H H. Wells, jr., son of Geo. Wells, formerly provost murshal of Alexandria, is conducting the prosecution, the principal counsel for the defecce being a negro lawyer named Greener.

The contractor for boring the Artesian well at the Riggs House made another attemptyes-terday to draw up the troken pices of auger, but the red attached to the grappling iron could not stand the pressure of the jack serews, and thick as it was, parted. The attempt to rise the brikin auger will now be abandoned and the boring of a new well at another spot be commenced, as the expense of the latter will be less than that of further effects to recover the broken auger and prosecute the boring of the well already nearly empleted.

The Collecter of Cas ones at Corpus Christi,

Texas, having applied to the commanding offi cer at Fort McIatosh for a military essent to accompany mounted inspectors on a secut, and his application being refused, the case was re ferred to the Scoretary of War and by him to the Judge Advocate General, by whom the action of the commandant at Fort Molntosh was sastained. This action is furnished to the press at the Treasury office in such a form as to make it appear that owing to democratic legislation the Government is powerless to collect its revenues.

It is reported here that the friends of Mr. J. R. Tucker are making a quiet but still active fort among the conservative nominees for the General Assembly of Virginia to score his election as U. S. Senator next winter in place of Col. Withers, whose term will expire March
